The Positive Effects of Meditation (Virtual) dpa192

Tuesday, September 28
7pm via Zoom

The positive effects of meditation are plentiful. Research has scientifically proven that meditation is a simple and effective way to balance your physical, emotional and mental state. We all experience stress in different ways and meditation is a tool to alleviate the negative effects that stress has on us. One of the most positive effects of meditation is how it releases stress from our bodies and allows us to experience a deeper level of relaxation which in turn will offer us more peace within. Please join Bruce Faithwick for this enlightening workshop. There will even be a short meditation sitting.
