Social workers help to serve all residents in the community—especially those most at-risk—through a lens of compassion and empathy. An intern from Stony Brook University's School of Social Welfare is available to provide free, one-on-one advising and guidance for decision making, as well as to connect folks with resources and referrals. Conversations will be kept confidential; this is a safe and welcoming environment.

Call Jessica at (631) 392-8435 to schedule an appointment (strongly encouraged).
